Welcome letter

Dear delegates,

It is with great pleasure that I welcome you to the thirteenth edition of the University of Navarra's Model United Nations. It is truly an honor to welcome the future leaders of Spain and the world to our beautiful campus in Pamplona.

The past few years have witnessed an unprecedented increase in global instability and regional conflicts triggered by the fluctuating balance of power that drives the current international system. It becomes evident that the international system is undergoing substantial structural change and it is our responsibility, as future leaders, to adapt our way of thinking and conduct international relations accordingly.

To achieve this, it is UNMUN's main objective to equip you with the necessary tools to adapt to such changes and face this uncertain future in the best way possible. It is because of this, that the main theme of this years UNMUN is as follows: “New World Order: Paving the International System.”

With this theme, we hope to stimulate a deep debate about the transformations that the current international system is undergoing, and the implications this has towards the future of security, diplomacy, negotiation, and sustainable development. We sincerely hope that throughout these conversations and experience, you may leave Pamplona with much more than theoretical and practical knowledge. We hope that you will establish deep connections with the other delegates and thus create a network of future leaders that are committed to the development of a stable international system.

On behalf of the Secretariat and staff of UNMUN'25, we wish you the best. We hope that your experiences during the conference inspire you to become agents of positive change. We encourage you to take advantage of this opportunity to develop your abilities, and forge lasting and meaningful friendships.

We hope to welcome you soon in Pamplona!

Nathalia Lozano Murphy
Secretary General UUNMUN'25

ABOUT UNMUN

The University of Navarra, established in 1952 by St. Josemaría Escrivá de Balaguer, was founded with a visionary commitment to educate students who would recognize the profound importance of dedication and service in both their personal and professional lives. The university aims to equip students with a wide range of tools and methodologies through specialized academic programs that foster critical thinking and ethical leadership.

With this in mind, the University of Navarra's Model United Nations is founded in 2013 as a student-led organization dedicated to the promotion of a culture of commitment, civic engagement and passion to contribute positively to society and effectively address global challenges.

More than a decade later, UNMUN has evolved into one of the most highly anticipated events within the university. It serves as a dynamic platform where students can demonstrate their exceptional debating skills and engage in meaningful discourse. Participants not only interact with their peers from the University of Navarra but also have the opportunity to collaborate with students from institutions throughout Spain and Europe.

This multicultural exchange enriches the experience, providing a multifaceted environment that enhances their understanding of international relations and diplomacy. Ultimately, UNMUN offers students invaluable firsthand experience that contributes significantly to their academic and personal development, preparing them to be informed global citizens ready to tackle the complexities of an interconnected world.

ABOUT PAMPLONA

HISTORIC BACKGROUND

Pamplona, located in northern Spain, has a rich history dating back to Roman times when it was known as "Pompaelo." Over the centuries, the city experienced the influence of various cultures, including the Visigoths and Muslims. However, it is most recognized for its San Fermín festival, with the famous running of the bulls that attracts visitors from all over the world every July. Pamplona also played a key role in the Reconquest and the unification of Spain under the Catholic Monarchs in the 15th century. Today, it is the capital of the Autonomous Community of Navarre and a modern, vibrant city where historical heritage blends harmoniously with contemporary life.

GETTING AROUND THE CITY

Most of Pamplona's magic is focused on its easy accessibility to all its hidden corners. The city is mostly walkable, but you can also access it through its main transport system the Villavesa Bus Transportation. Whilst in the model, we recommend for you to visit its vibrant center, where you can walk around the Plaza del Castillo, and its busy streets as is for example the infamous bull-running street Calle de la Estafeta. As it has a huge population of young students, restaurants and activities can be found at every corner, especially surrounding the University of Navarra area where the model will be based. Our staff will be most delighted and eager to show you around, and recommendations for accommodation and transport to the city will be given on a further instance. If you have any specific concerns, do not hesitate to contact the team.
